Importance of Muslim Unity

The word Muslim is a noun that explores the meaning of the one who practices Islam. The person who is the believer and the follower of Allah Almighty.

The time of the Prophet, Muslims used to live together peacefully. All of them were bound to follow the commands of the Holy Prophet. None of them disagreed over what was told by the Prophet to them. The companions like Hazrat, Abubakr, Hazrat Omar, Hazrat Usman, and Hazrat Ali had strong relation with each other and with the Muslim community. They were the people who taught us to how to remain united as Muslims.

In the world, a large number of Muslims are united based on a religion and belief in GOD, following the last Prophet Muhammad SAW and they are bound with such religious and beautiful practices of Islam. Islam teaches love, peace, and spreads a positive impact in the society. It teaches the lesson of love and brotherhood among Muslims.

The Prophet Muhammad (SAW) said about brotherhood "If a person adored his brother he should inform him of this fact."

Prophet Muhammad (SAW) also said, "Muslims are like a single man. If the eye is afflicted, then the whole body is afflicted. If the head is afflicted then the whole body is afflicted."

As we can say that Muslim Unity is a necessary part of Muslim life. If we united and face all the barriers of the enemies then we will lead in this world and in the Hereafter. In this regard, developed Islamic countries should help poor Islamic states. They should think about their Muslim brothers and take a stand for the better living styles of the underdeveloped countries.

The Muslim nations should make joint contracts for their defense. The Muslim communities should control the growing up crisis in the economic field. Politically strong countries maintain common policies so they can assist each other. Muslim Brotherhood in the light of Sunnah is a precious gift for the Muslims. It informs the Muslims about their right and how to live in a community.
